

QuickSOAP Notes and XRPpro both qualify for Section 179 Deduction in 2012 for 100% Write-off in first year*

Hello Doctor,

Everybody likes FREE! How would you like to get both pieces of our practice building software for free this year?

Well this year the IRS can help you do just that with the Section 179 deduction.

 ACT NOW
AND GET THIS

*What is the Section 179 Deduction??

Let me try to explain. Most people think the Section 179 deduction is some hidden or complex tax code. It really isn't, as the following will clarify for you.

Primarily, Section 179 of the IRS tax code allows businesses to deduct the full purchase price of qualifying equipment and/or software purchased or financed during the tax year. In English, that if you buy (or lease) a piece of qualifying equipment, you can deduct the FULL PURCHASE PRICE from your gross income.

It is an incentive, created by the U.S. Government, to encourage businesses to buy equipment and invest in themselves. We advise you to consult your tax accountant for further qualifying information.

So don't miss this opportunity to get something for nothing especially when this something for nothing can help you build your practice in so many ways.

Please check out all the ways my software can help you and feel free to call if I can help in anyway.

Sincerely,

David Bohn, DC
