

Still Using Handwritten Notes?

By Dr. David Bohn, DC

I get several calls each week from doctors who are still using handwritten travel cards or antiquated computer technology. They use this outdated method because they either have very little computer knowledge or do not like to change. Well, let me be the one to break the news: computerized notes with EMR/EHR technology is here to stay.

If you are one of those chiropractors who have been putting off moving into the future of documentation, then QuickSOAP Notes is the program for you. At www.chiroconceptions.com we specialize in "technophobes".

Moving your documentation into computerized touch screen technology will increase your compliance, decrease the time you spend doing new patient notes, and can even increase the number of referrals you get from primary care providers & attorneys. Even with these potential benefits, many DC's hesitate to move forward.

When you buy QuickSOAP Notes, we will "hold your hand" and help you get set up. This includes helping you get your computer set up & running, and connecting your iPad (if applicable). QuickSOAP is intuitive and offers help videos on every screen so you can learn as you go, without constantly turning to a manual to find out how something works.

Over the years, I have discovered that doctors have a strong interest in updating their practice and their patient management with computerized documentation. However, they have doubts about learning the software and their ability to work on a computer. We have had many self-described "older" doctors update to QuickSOAP Notes, and adapt to the technology very quickly. The biggest barrier to purchasing and upgrading always seems to be expanding your headspace first; after that, it is all down-hill.

It will take a few weeks to become completely comfortable with the program, but after the initial orientation period it will seem as if the software was made just for your practice. All of our screens can be customized to fit your practice, plus you have the option of adding unlimited template screens. That means that you can finally create documentation that is uniquely yours, all for less than $2,000.

The main thing to remember is: don't be afraid of expanding and growing. All of our staff, from our graphic artist to our senior programmer, will be glad to help you get the most out of your software. You get 30 days of support at the time of purchase. And if you would like unlimited support and updates, we will be only a phone call away, year after year, for only $295/year. We are happy to take suggestions for new screens, or any other improvements for that matter, from our support subscribers.

So, stop being afraid, we're here to help! Call us at 301-876-4565 if you would like to move forward and add QuickSOAP Notes to your practice today.

Dr. David Bohn, DC is the founder of www.chiroconceptions.com. He continues to practice chiropractic in a full time capacity as he has since 1988.